Profile:

My biggest strength is my character. It enables me to really enjoy meeting and working with different people but to also effectively communicate with customers and peers alike. I am a diligent and hard worker and can perform very well over extensive hours if required. I do consider myself to be very personable and I like to think I am very easy to get along with and would be a good character to have around in any workplace. Since graduating university i have really enjoyed my travels over the past few years, having lived in 3 different countries and having had many interesting jobs across different sectors and industries. I believe this makes me a very versatile worker who can succeed in a wide variety of roles. I have recently returned home from British Columbia, Canada.

Work experience during school and college years

Because the school hours at Wrekin College included Saturdays the only work experience I could gain during my education was during the holiday periods. In the main, I worked in my father's business which is in manufacturing and based in England, Nelson, Lancashire.

During my 5th year at Wrekin College I organised a work experience week at Piaggio which is the head office for Aprilia and Vespa Motorcycles in London. I spent the week working in the sales and marketing dept, where I helped the marketing manager develop POS material for a forthcoming sales campaign.

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Business Management (2:1) at the University of Leicester.
